A PART OF ME

marwan zalagh

creativity
willpower
ego
sloth
sincerity
uncertainty

these are 6 building bricks of
my personality.

together, they hold me up.

take a look!

CREATIVITY's
archenemy
STRIKES!
*and doubt

all of this,
but what for?

CREATIVITY

THE USE OF THE IMAGINATION OR
ORIGINAL IDEAS, ESPECIALLY IN THE
PRODUCTION OF AN ARTISTIC WORK.

I WANT TO GET GOOD IDEAS JUST LIKE THAT SHUT UP
ISN'T THAT A BIT
UNREALISTIC THO?

AM I CREATIVE?

YNOW ISNT CREATIVITY JUST COPYING THINGS BUT LIKE A SMART PERSON?

IDHONESTLY
I KINDA WANT TO SAY YES BUT

I WANT TO BE MORE INSPIRED

SHUT UP

HOW CAN

I BE MORE INSPIRED

WILLPOWER IS STRENGTH

I crave willpower. I want strength to turn my dreams into reality — but between you and me, I hate getting to work.

I'd rather do nothing all day than endure the misery of working.

But even though, I still end up behind my computer,
again and again, designing and creating things.
I still find the strength to move forward.

I have an obsession for the result, yet
I find myself loathing the journey.

And when I step back and look what I've created, a quiet sense of pride appears within me.
And that fills me with determination.

EBB'S GRANDPLAN

My ego is fucking me up.

I like to convince myself that I'm exceptional, set apart from the rest – even as reality tells me otherwise.

Each day, I struggle not to feel miserable in the face of someone greater.

*And yet, it remains
the one thing
that drives me
above all else.*

and honestly? that's all there is to say.

laziness is one of my core components. why do you think I always show up late during classes?

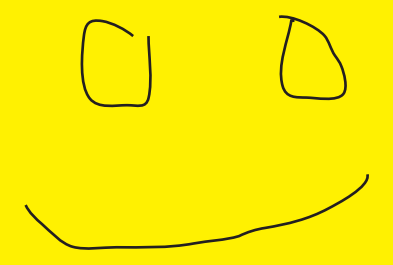

and if I could, I would stop right now what I'm doing and go do something else. maybe play hollow knight, or watch a web dev tutorial or something but I still have something to say about me.

gloth.

laziness' power is now flowing onto me

SINCERITY

AUTHENTICITY
MAY SEEM TERRIFYING

BUT TO WELCOME IT MEANS SALVATION

11:41 PM

you know, I'm not the most sincere guy ever, that's for sure

even though, I always try to make it part of my identity. there's so much to miss out when you're not sincere!!

to me, the best part about human connection is showing your true self to people. for them to know who you really are, and for you to know who they really are.

i think that breaking the established barriers of social etiquette, and to truly get to know someone is the best way to feel a little less alone in a world that feels more barren and grim than ever, despite its promise of connection through social media.

uncertainty

every single page in this booklet has a different art style. why? well, i could say it's because each part of my personality deserved its own visual language — that it was all intentional, meaningful.

but the truth is, i just can't stick to one style.

i change my mind constantly; i can't commit to anything unless i'm sure it's the right thing — the thing. and because of that, i'm always unsure. in any situation, the moment someone brings up a half-decent argument, my whole belief system starts to crumble.

maybe that makes me more open-minded. but it also makes it harder to figure out who i really am, or what my style is supposed to look like.

how do people just... know? how are they so confident in their choices, their beliefs, their worldview? why can't i be like that too? is it because i'm still young? or just wired differently?

i don't really have an answer.
so for now, i guess i'll just have to live with the uncertainty.

And embrace it.
